RARE BEAUTY, WITH CHICK

WWW.CHILDRESSKLEIN.COM/FALCON1.ASPX / CHILDRESS KLEIN PROPERTIES

One of the world's rarest birds, a peregrine falcon, is in a motherly way in uptown Charlotte. Local birders call her Gladys, and she's spent winters in uptown for several years. This year, she apparently found a mate and is incubating eggs. Childress Klein Properties has a "falcon cam" of the nesting bird. — BRUCE HENDERSON
